

NEVADA

RATINGS/CRITERIA:

Candidates were evaluated on their acceptance of climate change as a real, human-caused problem, their willingness to engage in dialogue about climate action, their voting record on climate-related legislation (if available), their willingness to engage with POW AF, the extent to which climate is a priority in their campaign, leadership displayed on climate issues in general, fossil fuel industry campaign donor records, and whether or not they have championed climate legislation.

Any candidate polling publicly above 10% was evaluated.

CANDIDATES FOR THE US HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:

District 1:

DINA TITUS: Double Black Diamond

Titus consistently votes for environmental protection and is a fierce advocate for public lands and funding clean energy projects in Nevada to lower costs and reduce harmful GHG emissions.

CARRIE BUCK: Out of Bounds

Buck does not prioritize climate policy, consistently voting against GHG emissions policies and developing public lands in her time as a state senator.

District 2:

TERESA BENITEZ-THOMPSON: Black Diamond

Benitez-Thompson recognizes the importance of public lands in Nevada, supports local renewable energy projects, and consistently votes for environmental protections.

DAVID FLIPPO: Green Circle

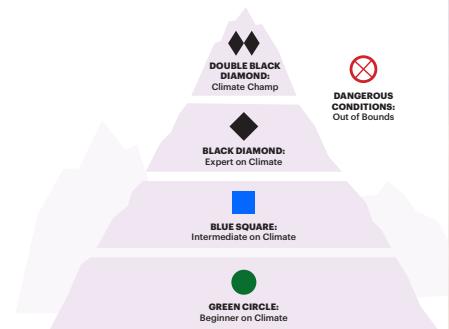

Flippo acknowledges climate change as a problem but does not prioritize it; he vows to protect public lands yet fails to advocate for crucial clean energy objectives.

District 3:SUSIE LEE: Double Black Diamond

Lee supported the largest climate investment in U.S. history, advocating for solar energy project funding in Nevada. She fights to protect public lands on the Natural Resources Committee.

MARTY O'DONNELL: Out of Bounds

O'Donnell refuses to acknowledge climate change, public lands, or GHG emissions. He supports an energy strategy centered on oil and gas development.

District 4:*STEVEN HORSFORD: Black Diamond

Horsford consistently supports environmental protection policies in Congress, fights for increased funding for solar energy projects, and bolsters Nevada's clean energy economy.

CODY WHIPPLE: Green Circle

Whipple recognizes the importance of protecting public lands, but he refuses to acknowledge the pressing issues of climate change or support solutions to address them.
